"...Calvary Curriculum is all I have been using for the past 10 years of ministering to children.. and has impacted tens and hundreds of children a cross Uganda communities whom some of these children have become ministers/servants and young pastors like at Calvary Chapel Entebbe, CC Kampala and Jinja more. Also the impact is so tremendous where through my organization we are devoted to Evangelize to communities that unreached and less reached and about 50 locations have been reached and 2,000 Sunday school children churches been set up in these 2,000 churches through explaining to the importance of setting up children churches. Note, we are not only reaching out to Calvary Churches but every child. Thanks." - Daniel

ITALY

"Hi, I'm a missionary in Ferrara, Italy. I oversee children's ministry and have been so blessed by Calvary Curriculum! It's easy to use and all planned out with amazing graphics. Being a pastors wife with our third child on the way, it's nice that I can quickly prepare a lesson with the help of Calvary Curriculum. I love that it's not a typical children's lesson, but the lessons bring the children in depth and teaches them through the Bible. I love that our children are reading from the Bible... learning how to find references, learning the stories and understanding where the books are in the Bible. Plus it's fun:) I've been super blessed! Thankful for resources like this!" - Bethany

BRAZIL

"As a Salvation Army Officer working in a country with limited resources for non-denominational Bible teaching, I have found Calvary Curriculum to be a wonderful help in preparing lessons. It is very easy to translate and adapt for any of our many different scenarios here in Brazil...The best thing about Calvary Curriculum is how it helps children to apply themselves to basic, solid and organized Bible teaching. I cannot thank you enough. God bless your work." - Margaret

CANADA

"I love your curriculum, it's well thought out and prepared! But most importantly, it uses God's word as it's foundation and helps children to understand the Bible, rather than man's idea of what the Bible could mean. Thank you for your diligence in being true to the word!" - Carissa

The children love the lessons and the games. The focus on God's Word is wonderful. Thank you for taking so much time and effort to provide these materials. May God continue to bless your ministry." - Cheryl

JAMAICA

"Many thanks for making your wonderful curriculum available... The children relate well to your format, and are really learning more about God's Word... I and a friend taught to the grade 6 class of a Jamaican school... This year we started a 'christian living' course. We had 63 students, divided into 2 classes. Teaching the course was a joy because it is so well laid out, and the kids loved the format... They loved colouring in the pictures and doing the activities. The discussions were very lively with the children... Our real praise report is that by the end of the course, ALL but 5 of the students committed their lives to Christ. 8 of those were saved in the last week... the Lord directed that we have an altar call even then. Many were in tears - genuine repentance and joy at salvation. The 5 who were not ready to make a commitment were willing to stand and be prayed over by their fellow classmates, who prayed most fervently for their salvation. I have no doubt that they will become christians, and we continue to pray for them. But even more than that, the Lord blew us away by revealing that His plan was for not just these children but for their families as well - household salvation! Just the other day I heard of the mother of one of these children being baptized! During their final term, many teachers, principal included, commented that they had never seen a grade 6 class like this one in their final term - their faces and demeanors were literally full of light and joy! One of the key parts of the study for the children was coming to an understanding of the place of works, as fruit outworked through sowing to the Spirit, rather than a condition for their salvation. I literally saw many of them walk out of spiritual prisons when they learned this. They also started to understand the sanctification process. What I observed most of all was that the simple act of keeping the children in God's Word, which your studies do so well, coupled with prayer, is the vehicle that brings them to Christ. So once again thank you for your ongoing commitment to, and toil in, advancing the gospel, helping people like me to 'train up the children in the way they should go, so that when they have grown they will not depart from it.'" - Deborah
